Please be aware daycare is supposed to be a fun, interactive experience, however there are no guarantees in life. All dogs react differently in an unknown situation, we cannot predict every dog's behavior in every situation. Due to the unpredictable nature of any canine put into a group situation, injuries can and will occur. Even a vigorous play session can turn into a disagreement resulting in minor injuries. We do everything possible to maintain staff and canine safety. There may be an instance where your dog receives minor injuries, and we will inform you of any injuries we are aware of. Please also be aware, in the instance of an altercation requiring medical attention, you are responsible for any medical costs incurred. Our hospital staff will attend to your pet and call you with any reason for treatment.
